DRAFT RULE APT TO BE ABOLISHED

This is One of the Principal Subjects to Come at American League Meeting That Will Be Held Wednesday.

New York, Feb. 1.—The principal questions that are expected to be considered by the American league owners at their meeting here on Wednesday are the player draft rule, similar to that passed by the National league, abolition of the draft rule from all class AA clubs, and adoption of a schedule for next season.

President Ban Johnson has been here since Saturday and has outlined a program for the meeting which he stated could be cleared up in one day.

Should the American league vote to abolish the draft rule, it is believed here that the National league will follow suit. It is expected the club owners to vote on the question before the meeting begins.

Originally it was decided to let new owners of the New York club, if one should appear, wait until the meeting with a demand for several players. It is said that Colonel Ruppert has been assured that a deal that will place Frank Baker on the Yankees will be arranged.
