

SLOTTED FOOTBALL RACES

Defeats of Michigan and Minnesota Show the Western Elevens Behind.

BOOSTS EASTERN GAME

Pennsylvania and Indiana Surprises—Maroons at Top Notch Form.

Apparently the western elevens have been slow in getting "next" to the possibilities of the new rules. It was East against the West Saturday, and in the games which Michigan and Minnesota figured the eastern style outlived the westerners. The one exception was the Chicago-Illinois game on Marshall field, but as this had no inter-sectional significance real proof of its versatility for comparison was lacking.

PENN TOLD TO WATCH GARRELS

Quaker Eleven Expected Much of Michigan's Star Full Back.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—(Record-Herald.) "The future of the Pennsylvania football team is in the hands of the Quakers," said a prominent sportsman here today. "The team is expected to be a surprise to the west, and to be a real contender for the championship." The Quakers are expected to be a surprise to the west, and to be a real contender for the championship.

EAST HAS THE "SHADE"

Whether or not the eastern teams are better advanced in the style made necessary by the scrumming of the old rules is to be seen. It looks that way, but certainly will take another year or so to get the measure of the new game. The eastern teams are expected to be a surprise to the west, and to be a real contender for the championship.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 18.—(Record-Herald.) There will be a big mass meeting held to-morrow morning in the varsity chapel, and the team will be given a big send-off."
