It is impossible to conceive of the exquisite gradations and shadings of tone that can be produced on a piano until you have tried the "KRANICH & BACH GRAND."

Program--Continued

The lectures are to be interspersed with many interesting features each day and no pains will be spared to make the course thorough and complete in every detail.

Each day Mrs. Armstrong will prepare, besides her regular menu, one of the articles required in the baking contest, which will be the grand climax of the cooking school. Monday biscuits will be demonstrated, and on each of the following days a complete lecture will be given on layer cakes, loaf cakes, pie crust, doughnuts, etc.

On Monday receipt leaflets will be given to all who are present, which will greatly aid all ladies to follow Mrs. Armstrong's work, and in order to benefit out-of-town women who cannot attend complete receipts, embracing all articles made during the demonstrations, will be printed each day.

By special request, there will be a lecture on the ideal kitchen during the week, which will give the housekeepers a glimpse of the newest and best appliances for domestic purposes.
