SAYS SMITH IS OUT FOR BOSSES

CUMMINS ACCUSES MICHIGAN MAN OF BEING IN CAHOOTS WITH ALDRICH ET AL.

Wolverine Sought to Put Into Rail Bill Provision Similar to House Measure.

(FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
WASHINGTON, May 18.—Senator Smith, of Michigan, got into the spotlight in the senate yesterday under the suspicion that he was working in "cahoots" with Aldrich, Cummins et al., although this was vehemently denied by both Mr. Smith and Mr. Elkins.

A rumor began to circulate as soon as the senate met that a portion of the senate insurgents and near-insurgents had made a deal with Mr. Aldrich and the other reactionaries on the railroad bill by which some compromise was to be agreed on and the bill passed in as short a time as possible. In fact it was alleged that the reactionary element of the senate had "sold" down made only one condition, that being that nothing Senators Cummins and Doolittle, of Iowa, offered was to be put into the bill.

Mr. Cummins, who had received word of the rumors and wanted to get time to find out if the forces were really as bad as alleged, so he asked that the consideration of the bill be postponed until after that it might be printed and senators have a chance to examine and study it. He also asked that the bill be taken up at once and that the senate be divided into two sections, one to consider the bill and the other to consider the amendment.

This plan, which Mr. Smith, of Michigan, had proposed, was not a fair way to do things. If the demand for a vote on it at once was pressed he wanted to say there would first have to be a good deal of discussion. That is, there would be no time saved by not agreeing with his request. He also intimated that he knew he was up against a combination.

This brought Mr. Smith to his feet. He declared that he had conferred with no one but his colleagues from Michigan. Mr. Townsend, of the house, and had considered his amendment to it that the provision that all possible parties to one of these suits should receive notice of such suit and that the right to receive such notice was protected by law. He had no desire to rush anything through the senate, and as far as he was concerned he was willing to wait. He had no motive other than that of looking after the right of all citizens and that his friend, Mr. Townsend, should receive that credit which was his due. Mr. Smith added that he had learned Messrs. Aldrich and Elkins had come to favor the house provision, and that having learned this he was not long in making up his mind that this was what the senate would adopt.

Mr. Elkins made a disclaimer of any understanding with Mr. Smith, and Mr. Aldrich, after saying a few more sharp things to Cummins, added that if the senators wanted to have more time to study the Smith amendment he should not object.

Whereupon the senate laid the matter over until today.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Horace Lane, of Goodground, L. I., concedes that the weights and measures, is repeating today in the receipt of a 4,000 per cent raise in salary. Until the other day the most important thing about his job was its title. The net financial result since he took office has averaged 13 per cent a year under the tax system. This year a fixed salary of $12,000 a year was voted.

PRINTERS' UNION HOLDS ITS ELECTION

International and Local Officers Are to Be Chosen Today.

Today the 60,000 members of the International Typographical union scattered throughout the United States and Canada are holding their annual election. Besides the election of international officers, in most of the cities a local election is also being held.

James M. Lynch is a candidate for re-election as president of the parent body and is opposed by William M. Rohn, of Dallas, Texas. The battle for first place is a warm one and the local printers have been receiving campaign literature by the bushel in favor of and against both candidates. It is predicted by President Neely that Mr. Lynch will be re-elected by a good majority and his record in handling the great eight-hour strike is being urged as a reason why he should be. In addition to his otherwise capable administration. There are contests on for most of the international offices and a large vote is expected.

On the local ticket, Clarence Neely is without opposition for president. This will be his third term. The warmest contest will be for delegate to the next convention of the International union, in which four candidates are entered, representing all of the daily newspaper offices in the city. Two are to be elected and the one receiving the highest number of votes will carry the credentials. There is usually a battle for that honor, in addition to merely carrying the election. While the newspaper offices will vote in their chapters, as well as some of the larger job offices, the balance of the ballots will be cast at the Detroit Printers' club, which will be the central polling place and where booths will be provided for that purpose. The Australian system, with printed ballots, is used in the election and it is carried on with all the safeguards of a municipal or national election. The counting of the votes will begin at 1 o'clock tonight at the Detroit Printers' club.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Secretary Nagel, of the department of commerce and labor, left this morning for New York city, where he will deliver a speech before the National Association of Manufacturers tonight. On May 20 Mr. Nagel will make an address before the Wholesale Grocers' meeting at Louisville, Ky.
