1916 SUGAR FREE OF TARIFF, SAYS EDWIN F. SWEET

Assistant Secretary of Commerce in City for Brief Vacation.

SEES NO INDICATIONS OF INCREASE IN TOLL

Defends Wilson's Mexico Policy in Refusing Recognition of Huerta.

"Unless there is a distinct change of sentiment in administration circles sugar will go on the free list in 1916 under the terms of the Underwood bill," said Edwin F. Sweet, assistant secretary of commerce, Thursday.

Mr. Sweet is spending a few days in Detroit as the guest of his son, George F. Sweet, 425 Iroquois avenue. He is on his first extended vacation since he assumed office a year ago last spring, and will stop but a short time at his home in Grand Rapids before journeying west for a long rest.

"The bureau of corporations, which is a part of our department, has been conducting an investigation of the sugar industry. This has not been confined to Michigan but has embraced the western states engaged in beet sugar production, and the cane states of the south. The report has not been prepared as yet and I am not familiar with what it contains, but I am pretty sure that there will be nothing presented which will lead to tariff amendment to give protection to the sugar industry.

Cane Growing Reform Needed.

"It is my own opinion that the beet sugar companies, despite their efforts to make a case by shutting down, will be able to get along on a profitable basis. But I can see but little hope for the cane sugar industry in this country, unless there is an unexpected reform in the methods of growing and refining."

As is to be expected, Secretary Sweet is a strong supporter of President Wilson's Mexican policy.

"I didn't agree with the president in the beginning," he says, "but I have come around to his view. Huerta, even if he had been recognized, could never have established a stable government in Mexico because the underlying causes of the trouble would not have been removed. Huerta represents the moneyed class and the peons of that country will never be satisfied until they control the government."

Mr. Sweet talked entertainingly of his own department.

"Next to the time I was mayor of Grand Rapids I have never enjoyed work so much," he said. "I like it every minute because there is something that really can be accomplished."

Federal Fish Control.

The assistant secretary is paying particular attention to the bureau of fisheries and is sponsor for a movement to take the protection of fish and game from the various states and put it under federal control so as to remove politics from the administration and enforcement of the laws.

Discussing the present efforts toward mediation he declared that even if the conference did not settle the Mexican trouble it would have a great effect in strengthening the ties between the United States and South America.

"They have been suspicious of us," he says, "and our acceptance of the offer of the A-B-C nations will go a long way in proving to them our sincerity in our efforts of friendship."

Secretary Sweet will remain here several days before going to his home in Grand Rapids.

Political Gossip

George H. Carlisle, circuit court stenographer, is sending out formal notices of his candidacy for one of the two Republican nominations for judge of probate. Mr. Carlisle calls attention to his long service in the courts of the county and his membership for more than 20 years of the Detroit bar. Mr. Carlisle was associated with the late Judge Morse Rohnert in establishing the first juvenile court division.

Representative Wayne R. Rice, of Newaygo, is a candidate for speaker pro tem of the next house at Lansing. Charles Smith, of Lapeer, Representative Dunn, of Sanilac; Representative Wiedenfeller, of Bloomingdale, and Captain John Stevenson, of Detroit, are all candidates for speaker, or rather will be, if all are elected this fall.

Up-state papers are printing the announcement that Representative Hinkley, of Petoskey, has decided to withdraw from the race for congress in the Eleventh district, but no definite word of Mr. Hinkley's intentions has been received in Detroit. The Petoskey legislator was at the welfare conference here last week and said nothing at that time to indicate that he was not contemplating running for congress. If he is out this leaves Representative Bayliss, of the Soo; Judge Yelland, of Escanaba, and Senator F. D. Scott, of Alpena, as the candidates. Bayliss and Yelland both live north of the straits, while Senator Scott is alone south of the straits.

G. R. Empson, an attorney of Gladstone, has announced himself as a candidate for the legislature in Delta county. He will oppose Peter Jensen, present representative, in the primary.

Dr. G. M. Brown, of Muskegon, is announced as a candidate for the Bull Moose congressional nomination in the Ninth district. General Sears, of Pentwater, has been frequently mentioned as a candidate for the same nomination.

Mayor George Ellis, of Grand Rapids, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, will open his campaign in Detroit next week.

Former Congressman George L. Loud, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination again in the Tenth district, was in Detroit Thursday. Mr. Loud expresses himself as well satisfied with conditions in the district, and believes he will be nominated. "No matter who is nominated by the Republicans, I believe he will be elected," says the former congressman. "The people are united against the Democratic administration and the Progressives are turning to the Republican party to assure a united strength in congress against Democratic policies." Dr. Roy A. Woodruff, Progressive, defeated Mr. Loud two years ago in the district and is a candidate for re-election.

WINDSOR

POISSON CHOSEN BY CONSERVATIVES IN NORTH ESSEX

Will Make Race for Seat in Ontario Legislature June 29.

Dr. Paul Poisson was unanimously chosen by the Conservatives of North Essex as their candidate in the elections for the Ontario legislature June 29, at their convention in Tecumseh Thursday afternoon.

More than 300 delegates and supporters of the Whitney government were present.

Eight names were handed in for the nomination: Dr. J. O. Reaume, Patrick Ouellette, Dr. H. R. Casgrain, Dr. J. F. Millen, N. M. Mousseau, Dr. Fred Parks, Henry Duff and Dr. Poisson. The others withdrew, leaving the nomination to Dr. Poisson.

Dr. Reaume, who was defeated for the Windsor nomination by O. E. Fleming, said that he was unable to accept the nomination for the north riding because of his physical inability.

"You need a young man to stump the county," he declared. He briefly alluded to his defeat at the Windsor convention.

"By an irregularity constituted convention I was defeated in Windsor. The delegates at that convention did not represent the opinion of the electorate," he asserted.

Although Dr. Reaume did not say directly that he wouldd make a three-cornered fight in Windsor, it was the opinion of the majority of those present that he would run as an independent candidate.

Railway Manager Says Company Will Appeal in Event of Restraining Order.

Manager James Anderson, of the Sandwich, Windsor & Amherstburg railway, declares that his company will not be satisfied if Justice Lennox gives a verdict against it in the suit of Mitchell and Dresch to restrain the company from constructing the Ferry avenue loop line, and that an appeal to a higher court will be made in the event of an adverse verdict.

It was found that of the eight men doing duty as constables, three were American citizens, and only one had any right to do police work. One of the "officers" was wearing a Detroit police badge.

SCALY PIMPLES ON HANDS AND ARMS

Little White Bumps Came in Clusters. Would Swell Up, Burn, Itch and Ache. Couldn't Sleep For Torture. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured.

6 East Sixth St., Coffeyville, Kan.—"About two years ago my pet kitten caught some kind of disease. I tried to doctor the little thing and I caught the disease on my hands and arms. It first broke out in little watery pimples and when the water dried out they all ran together and got scaly. There were lots of little white bumps about as big as the end of a pin and they would come in clusters. When I would scratch them yellow water would appear. Then my hands and arms would swell up and burn and itch and ache till it seemed like I would go crazy. Heat would make it worse. When the weather was hot I couldn't sleep nights for the torture. I felt so ashamed of my hands they looked so terribly. I couldn't bear any clothing to touch my arms at all.

"I used every ointment and lotion I could hear of for relief but nothing seemed beneficial. So after over a year of suffering and torture I heard of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I got some. I used three cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment and they cured my arms and hands." (Signed) Miss Laura Medberry, June 5, 1913.

Cuticura Soap 25c. and Cuticura Ointment 50c. are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

COLLECTION OF ONE CENT INCOME TAX COSTS $1.50

One cent is the smallest income tax payment thus far received by the internal revenue department and the circumstances which determined the amount of tax are even more interesting than the figure itself.

If the income of the taxpayer had been one cent less during the 10 months since the law became operative he would have had no tax to pay at all. His salary for ten months amounted to $2,500.51. He was an unmarried man and entitled to an exemption of $3,000 a year. For 10 months it figured pro rata $2,500. This left his net income 51 cents.

Nothing less than a dollar is taxed, but where the amount exceeds 50 cents it figures at one dollar. This man's net income exceeded the earning point by one cent, so he was taxed one per cent of a dollar, which is one cent. The taxpayer announced he would have his receipt framed.

Chief Deputy Clarence Neely took the trouble of estimating what it cost the government to collect this one-cent income tax and arrived at the conclusion that it cost in the neighborhood of $1.50.

Another "low water" mark payment of the tax yesterday amounted to 28 cents. This payment was made by check.

INDICTS PLUMBERS UNDER TRUST LAW

Iowa Federal Jury Acts Against 36 Members of National Association.

Des Moines, Ia., June 4.—Indictments were returned against 36 officials and members of the National Association of Master Plumbers and officials of state organizations in Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska and Iowa by the federal grand jury here this afternoon.

The indictments charge conspiracy in restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

It is specifically alleged that the National Association of Master Plumbers has been operating in violation of law ever since its organization in 1884 and that it has continually conspired to interfere with the business of plumbers and plumbing supply houses.

Those indicted include W. J. Hilliard, Elmhurst, Ill., president of the Illinois state association of Master Plumbers and director of the national organization; Frank N. Patterson, Springfield, Ill.; Edward Hornbrook, and William A. Decker, Grand Rapids, Mich., and William J. Woolley, Evansville, Ind., directors of the national association.

The basis for the government's charges, according to B. F. Welty, special assistant to the attorney general, was the adoption of a resolution at the national convention of the master plumbers in 1884, providing an agreement between the plumbers' association and the supply house men to confine the sale of plumbing supplies to persons "legitimately engaged in business" or master plumbers, and the passage of a resolution in 1903, defining a master plumber as a member of the association.

Federal Judge Smith McPherson ordered that warrants for the arrest of the indicted men be issued and served as rapidly as possible.

The investigation will be made nation-wide, District Attorney Porter said.

TWENTY-FOUR SENIORS OF Gillies school, members of the June graduating class, have organized, with the following officers: President, Robert McGreevy; vice-president, De Witt Shurmur; secretary, Olivia Parent, and treasurer, Lillian Englishman. Class colors of blue and maize and a motto, "Here We Launch; Where Shall We Anchor?" have been selected.

AT LAST! G. H. KEOUGH WILL APPRAISE D. U. R.

Father of Municipal Ownership Will Do It for $5,000, Maybe for $100.

George H. Keough, the inventor of municipal ownership, is with us again.

The coming campaign, with its inevitable attack on the Detroit United railway, has brought George back to life and happiness. The slogan "the D. U. R. must be eliminated," to be the campaign cry of Mayor Marx this summer and fall, aroused the original municipal ownership advocate from his lethargy.

For several months George has been denied the pleasure of a soft chair in the mayor's office, but the coming battle has caused the bars to be let down. George is now a frequent visitor. He had a confidential chat with Secretary Fitzgerald Thursday, in which he offered to appraise the D. U. R. property for $5,000, or upward, according to the amount of money the street railway commission has to expend.

"I have the inside information," quoth George to the secretary. "You give me a square deal and I'll treat you right. Maybe my price will be as low as $100, if the proper appreciation of my work is shown."

George was sent over to the top floor of the Dime Bank building, where the street railway commission is attempting to solve the transportation problem and at the same time gather material for the mayor's campaign.

Admits Assaulting Daughter.

His arrest, caused by suspicious neighbors last Friday night, Frank Dunlap, a widower, 50 years old, living at 135 Helen avenue, is said by Assistant Prosecutor Keidan to have made a complete confession of shocking relations with his 14-year-old daughter. Bruises on the child's face caused the neighbors to fear she was mistreated. Dunlap pleads to be sent up for 20 years. The offense is punishable by life imprisonment.
